Recruiting for the Libraries

Join Our Team

UW employees enjoy outstanding benefits, professional growth opportunities and unique resources in an environment noted for diversity, intellectual excitement, artistic pursuits and natural beauty. All of which has allowed the UW to be nationally recognized as a "Great College to Work For" year after year.

The Libraries thrive on community engagement with a strong focus on teaching and learning. Many of our staff author publications, teach credit courses, and hold leadership positions with regional and national partners.

We aspire to become a truly inclusive and equitable organization. We actively support the University in sustaining diversity, creating inclusive experiences for the UW community, and confronting institutional bias and structural racism.
