

Paula Walker

Paula Walker served as Interim Head of the East Asia Library from February or March 2003 (following the retirement of Min-Chih Chou) through August 31, 2006 (when Zhijia Shen started at EAL).

Paula obtained her Masters of Library Science degree from the University of Washington in the late 1970s, and after graduating obtained a beginning Reference Librarian position at UW's Odegaard Undergraduate Library. During her time at the Undergraduate Library, Paula served in several capacities: she managed the Library Instruction Program, she was head of Reference, and Collection Development Manager. She became Interim Head, and then Head of the Undergraduate Library (1983-1984, 1985-1991, 1992-1996). She coordinated the 6 ½-year long Suzzallo renovation project before being appointed as Interim Head of EAL. Subsequently, she served as Director for Libraries Space Planning & Special Assistant to the Dean, until retiring on August 15, 2016.
